Dr. Katherine Atchison MD, CCFP, FCFP

Dr. Katherine Atchison has been practicing in the medical field for 22 years after graduating from medical school in Saskatoon. She holds specializations in general family practice, obstetrics, pediatrics and hospital inpatient care and has served as mentor to resident doctors for the past 16 years. She is a member of the Sexual Assault Response Team, administering the medical care required for victims. Dr. Atchison was also the department health and wellness physician for the Red Deer Emergency Services, including both mental and physical health of all the employees and their families. She has consistently gone above and beyond for her patients, earning a reputation as both an attentive and caring doctor, especially in obstetrics. She is married with two sons and enjoys doing crafts, reading and gardening.
